Muscle Building

The Intensive supramaximal contractions stimulate the react of the muscles. The energy reconstructs internal structure, causing the regrowth of muscle cells, the creation of protein, and muscle fiber chains. This procedure leads the results in higher density and muscle volume.

Fat Removal

The muscle-building improves the epinephrine release, which brings an obvious effect that leads to supramaximal lipolysis in fat cells.

Circulation of lymphatic improvement

The electromagnetic waves stimulate the hemoglobin, increase blood flow, lymphatic circulation. The procedure increases that dead fat cells are eliminated naturally.

High Intensity

TeslaSculpt based on high-intensity magnetic energy, which could cover big skeletal muscles of the human body, and this high-energy level allows muscle response with a deep remodeling of its inner structure.
